

Privacy Statement

The Dylan Amsterdam respects your personal data and cares for the personal information provided to us through the websites controlled by us, which include: www.dylanamsterdam.com, www.vinkeles.com, www.occo.nl, www.ate-amsterdam.com (hereinafter: 'website(s)'), or that is obtained otherwise, will be handled with confidentiality. Personal data concerns all the information about a person. Data that states something about a person indirectly, is also considered personal data. The subsequent text implements the right to be informed to the person concerned whose personal data is processed by The Dylan Amsterdam, as follows from the Global Data Protection Regulation (GDPR).

This privacy statement is valid from 25th May 2018 onwards and is subject to change without prior notice.

Data controller and communication

The Dylan Amsterdam processes personal data to provide services to you, improve performance of services and to communicate with you as the person concerned. For evaluation of our provision of services, The Dylan Amsterdam oftentimes hires a third party. You - being the data subject - are in control to decide whether to participate in this and provide your personal data. You can also subscribe to the newsletter or other forms of communication methods of The Dylan Amsterdam.

Purpose of processing personal data

The Dylan Amsterdam processes the following personal data exclusively for the hereinafter referred purposes:

- Complying with legal obligations;
- Sales, marketing and communication activities;
- Recruitment and selection

Which personal data is processed?

The Dylan Amsterdam processes the subsequent personal data for the purpose of provision of services or on the basis that the data subject has provided this on its own initiative:

- First and surname, e-mail address, (mobile) phone number, postal address, sex, spoken language, passport or ID number, birthdate, allergy information, dietary preferences, arrival and departure dates hotel room(s), credit card data, repeat visits, brand and type of computer, type of browser, brand and type of mobile phone, IP-address, duration of visiting websites and clicking behavior, clicking behavior digital (e-mail) marketing, preferences for hotel room types, room number(s) or facilities, camera images in public spaces.

The abovementioned personal data is processed by The Dylan Amsterdam because this has been provided by you as the data subject on your own initiative, was obtained in the context of provision of services, has been shared by third parties to us, amongst which counterparties, or has been become known through public sources.

Basis for processing personal data

- Vital interests of the data subject(s)

Sharing of personal data with third parties

The Dylan Amsterdam shares your personal data only when necessary for the provision of services with due regard for the abovementioned purposes. This includes, for instance carrying out of duties by another attorney, the conducting of an examination by an expert or the involvement of another third party on behalf of and commissioned by The Dylan Amsterdam, such as an IT-supplier, but also the provision of your personal data relating to (legal) procedures or correspondence with the other party. Besides that, The Dylan Amsterdam can provide personal data to a third party, such as a supervisor or any other public authority agency, insofar as there is a legal obligation to do so.

A processing agreement has been signed with the third party that processes your personal data on behalf of and commissioned by The Dylan Amsterdam, which obligates this third party to adhere to the GDPR. Third parties involved by The Dylan Amsterdam that provide services as a data controller, are responsible for their own adherence to the GDPR for the (further) processing of your personal data. This includes an accountant, notary, and other commissioned third parties for the purpose of a second opinion or an expert's report.

Secured personal data

The Dylan Amsterdam highly values the security and protection of your personal data and takes care of appropriate technical and organizational measures to ensure a security level fine-tuned to the risks, taking into account the current state of technology.

In case The Dylan Amsterdam uses services provided by third parties such as an IT-supplier, The Dylan Amsterdam will write down the arrangements in a data processing agreement about sufficient security measures, in the context of the security of personal data.

Retention period of personal data

The Dylan Amsterdam stores personal data that is being processed no longer than is necessary for the abovementioned purposes of data processing or that is required by law or legal obligation.
